

BOY BIGAMIST FOUND AFFINITY, AND ALSO A CELL

Harry Grossman, Only Seventeen, Took Wife No. 2 Without Getting Divorce.

RIVAL FOUND HIM OUT.

Told Wife No. 1, and Now Hopes to Win the Second for Himself.

This affinity thing works out badly, as Harry Grossman, of No. 22 Siegel street, Brooklyn, says from his cell in the Tombs. If you marry the affinity before you have gone through the ceremony of divorcing Number One wife, Grossman is or was a factor, and so didn't have money enough to ship his wife back to Austria before he married pretty Rose Matasch, of No. 238 Avenue C. Then, too, Grossman is only seventeen—the youngest bigamist in the memory of the Tombs officials.

Back of Grossman's trouble looms large one Jacob Cohen, of No. 7 Willet street—a rejected suitor of pretty Rose—who found wife No. 1 and told her all about him.

Cohen as a Sleuth.

Joseph Cohen followed the seventeen-year-old bigamist on his way to and from work, and one night he caught him going up to see his first wife, Cohen, being busy during the day, didn't know that Grossman had been visiting wife No. 1 every day and telling her he had night work, putting in his evenings with Rose. It was Grossman's switch of schedule that put Cohen wise. Cohen, the sleuth, lost no time after his discovery in telling wife No. 1 his story, and the two went over to Essex Market Court and got a warrant for the sickle Mr. Grossman. He was held yesterday by Magistrate Barlow in $1,500 bonds for trial.

As soon as he saw his rival hustled to a cell Cohen, it is said, hurried round to see Rose and arrange to marry her himself when the law gets through with Grossman.

First One Too Old, He Says.

Grossman told an Evening World reporter to-day that his first wife, who is thirty years old, had "outgrown him" and that he thought a young fellow like himself needed an affinity of his own age. He said he married Mrs. Grossman, who was the widow of Max Huhner, Grossman's boss, about a year and a half ago. She was much older than he, but he liked her very much, and he said that Rose had thrown him over upon discovering of his loop-the-loop system of matrimony. "That's her privilege," he admitted, "but I liked her best. The other was all right, but too old for a young fellow."

PETE GARVEY'S HEAD DROPS IN BASKET

"Resignation" Was Predicted by Goodwin at Meeting Yesterday.

Peter J. Garvey, who is contesting with Frank J. Goodwin for the Tammany leadership of the Seventh (old Ninth) Assembly District, to-day quit his $1,000 a year job of solicitor clerk in the Register's office. Garvey resigned, he said, in order to place himself on a square political basis, he being the McClellan candidate and his opponent the Murphy organization's choice.

Register Gass accepted Garvey's resignation with regret, he announced, and complimented the retiring clerk. "Mr. Garvey," he said, "has been a very good clerk for my office, and his resignation was a great loss to me. I hope he will be successful in his political career."

The Goodwin faction prophesied Garvey's retirement yesterday. "Tom Smith, Goodwin's right hand man, is a secretary of Tammany Hall. Gass is a Murphy man. Garvey was appointed Satisfaction Clerk last October."

American Dancing Girl Who Is Winning Honors Abroad

ISADORA DUNCAN

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—In the Bavarian capital great honor is being paid to Isadora Duncan, the American dancer. The Prince Regent and Frau Cosima Wagner have taken her in hand, both declaring that her art is a revelation and that it is most desirable to reform theatrical ballets in agreement with Miss Duncan's terpsichorean principles. Miss Duncan is taking steps to transfer her dancing academy from Berlin, where only ridicule has rewarded her efforts, to Munich, where she will be able to back

In the sunshine of royal favor. Her powerful friends in Munich feel certain that they will be able to furnish the necessary capital for building a school. They even go so far as to recommend that the school become a royal institution, and that her task shall be to train girls for a corps de ballet which shall be substituted for the absurd, ungraceful conventional ballets now in vogue—real artistic productions modeled on Grecian lines.

Cosima Wagner has engaged Miss Duncan for the next Bayreuth festival.
